

Song

5. Va de l'avant

Let's go on

Ralph Coleman

English translation: Janet Coleman

J = 120
Allegro moderato

A B Ruth:

4 8

17 Please do not cry, let's have no tears. Bra-ve-ly let us go on.

A house snug and warm o-ver our heads, we can sleep in spite of our fears.

C

21 Please do not cry, let's have no tears. Bra-ve-ly let us go on. A

26 house snug and warm o-ver our heads, we can sleep in spite of our fears. We're a-

30 lone in the world and our purse is light but we have a shel-ter to-night.

33 'Though we've no-thing to eat D our dreams may be sweet and to -

36 mor - row new friends we'll meet. I had my doubts what they might say

40 when I ca - me he - re with you. Al - though they were cruel,

43 I un - der - stand. They don't wel - come beg - gars to - day. We are 46 thank-ful in-deed to this kind old man who has helped us the best he can.

49 He came to our de-fence, did not send us hence. Could this be God's pro-vi - dence? He came to our de-fence, did not send us hence. Could this

52

56

 be God's pro - vi - dence? Yes in-deed, you can some-times meet someone who will do his part. You can know, some-how it will show he has God's law in his heart. Har-vest is here, what joy-ful sight!

60

64

68

 We'll rise at dawn's ear - ly light. I shall be there, rea-dy to glean, if an

72

 ow - ner gives me the right. With the bar-ley at first and then the wheat we are sure of plen-ty to eat. We can trust God to give what we need to live and yet more, of that I'm sure! We can trust God to give what we need to live and yet

76

80

84

 more, of that I'm sure!

G 8